Maxi Qashqai by ELIA

The new Qashqai has also started successfully in the market. But it hardly stands out in the masses of SUVs in the streets. But this does not apply to the Qashqai Adventure newly constructed by ELIA. Many people have known the market-listed ELIA AG for 33 years as the leading Renault tuner. But for 15 years now the ELIA team has also intensively dealt with the upgrading of current Nissan models.

The timelessly beautiful ELIA-own Lombardo wheels alone do not only make the Qashqai look more elegant but also one class higher. This is still topped by the attractive off-road look consisting of front bar, side rods with entries and rear bar. Those parts may be fastened to the original points without drilling and welding.

Instead of the rear bar it is also possible to mount a 2-pipe sport muffler with large oval tail pipes. A discreet lowering by means of modified suspension springs emphasizes the impressive overall picture. And, in the new 1.6 liters diesel engine, the additional ELIA control unit Elditronic does not only raise the performance and torque by approx. 12 - 15% but it also almost completely prevents the start-up and throttle response deficiency existing in the original vehicle which leads to a significantly increased driving pleasure in particular in case of a sportive way of driving.

ELIA would like to emphasize that the original comfort does not suffer due to the reconstruction. All retrofitting parts are available from ELIA or every Nissan dealership individually or in kits already starting from 2.830 Euros.
